

Tony talks about his books

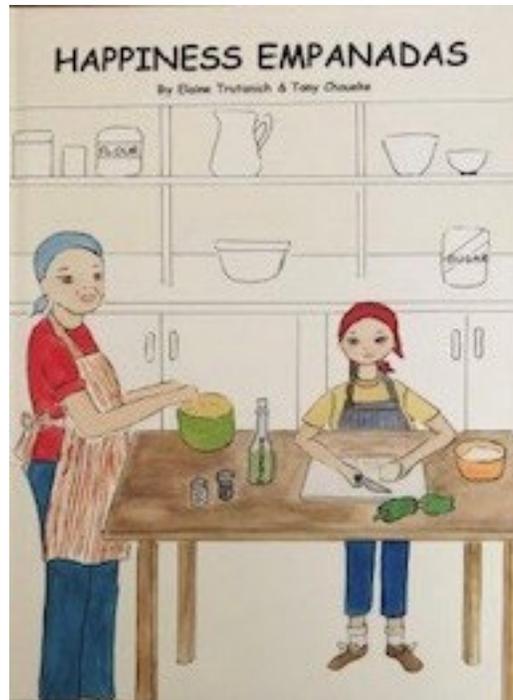

I have written several books, mostly comedies in both Hebrew and in Arabic. Humor, as you can well imagine, is in short supply in the Middle East and is perhaps the secret sauce, currently in rare supply, that may serve to promote better understanding and, dare I say it, “sanity.” These books have been published and sold in Israel and as yet have no translations into English.

Also, I have written two children’s books (in English), fully illustrated and which speak to “girl power,” the importance of which we came to realize, hopefully that is, after leaving Hanover.

The books are available from me at no charge (email Tony Choueke).
